If Militia Was Strung Out Along Border Men Would Be Third of a Mile Apart

Special to the Morning News.
Washington, May 17.—The decision of the war department to order out the militia organizations of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona to aid in guarding the southern border of the United States against further raids by Mexican bandits makes the boundary line between the two republics a topic of paramount interest. This boundary is the subject of today's war geography bulletin, issued by the National Geographic society from its Washington headquarters, which says:
"All the territory of the four border states of California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas originally belonged to the Mexican republic, and if the United States were called upon to guard the lines which constituted the southern border before the acquisition of Texas and the land purchased after the war of 1848, the boundary would extend for a distance of 2,500 miles instead of 1,833 miles, as now.
"The Rio Grande, which constitutes a natural boundary between the two countries for a distance of 1,335 miles, descends in the mountains of Southern Colorado and flows southeast into the gulf of Mexico. It becomes a part of the boundary at El Paso, some 700 miles from its source. Owing to the extensive use of its waters for irrigation purposes and to rapid evaporation during the summer months, the river's volume frequently is so diminished that for many miles along its course the bed becomes dry. Its flow is by no means commensurate with its length or with the basin of 240,000 square miles which it drains.
"The Rio Grande is navigated by small boats for 500 miles above its mouth, but it is one of the most variable of rivers, the volume of water which it discharges some years being ten times as great as during others.
"To the Mexicans the upper river is known as the 'Rio Grande del Norte' (Great River of the North), but in the Big Bend region, where the latest border outrages have occurred, it is known as the 'Rio Bravo' (Rapid River).

The whole boundary line as it now exists between the United States and Mexico has been established through the purchase of territory by the former republic, for although the war of 1848 was fought to fix the Rio Grande as the Texas border, by the Guadalupe Hidalgo treaty Mexico received $15,000,000 and was relieved of $3,000,000 of debts, in payment for her cession of Texas and for the territory embraced in the state then known as New Mexico, from which California, Nevada, Utah, most of Arizona and portions of Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico have been carved. Six years after this treaty the Gadsden Purchase was consummated whereby, for $10,000,000, the United States, in addition to other concessions, acquired more than 45,000 additional square miles lying between the Gila river on the north and the present boundary line between Arizona and New Mexico and the Mexican state of Sonora. This sale was unpopular in Mexico and was partly responsible for the banishment of President Santa Anna.
One-fifth of the total area of the United States (Alaska and the insular possessions exclusive) is embraced in the four states on the Mexican border, while three-sevenths of Mexico's area is included in her six border states of Lower California, Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas.
"If all the militiamen of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas which the war department has called upon for patrol duty on the Mexican border, were strung out as sentries they would form a 'thin khaki line' with each man, including officers, a third of a mile from his nearest neighbor to the right and left. If eight-hour tours of duty were required our southern militia 'wall,' as ancient Sparta called her fighting men, would be composed of 'bricks' a mile apart."

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is just ordinary unperfumed coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.
One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get purified coconut oil at any pharmacy; it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Camp Wilson, San Antonio, May 17.—P. A. Weather, captain of Company K, who has been promoted to major, was senior captain of the National Guard of Texas, being captain of the only company that has been in service since the organization after the Spanish-American war.

Major Weathered joined the guard of Virginia in 1903, serving as private. Later he was commandant of the Civil War Military school at Arlington, Texas. Upon his removal to Hillsboro he rejoined the guard as private, going through various promotions to first lieutenant.
On May 1, 1915, he was made captain of Company K, which position he held until his promotion.

From a private he became captain and as such was one of the best known and liked men in the service. His selection as major comes in recognition of his long and very popular career among the men and regarded highly among the higher officers.

During the place of captain of the company is First Lieutenant B. Fiske Wright of Waco. Captain Wright is a man of several years' service, a graduate of A. & M., where he was ranking major in the student battalion. He has been with Company K several years as lieutenant and is very popular among the men and regarded highly among the higher officers.

Other officers of the company are: First sergeant, R. L. Peyton; quartermaster sergeant, F. G. Scott. Other sergeants are Dan Long, W. C. Rogers, W. H. Little, P. R. Green.
Company clerk, L. C. Ketchum; cook, G. M. Cook; mess steward, C. C. McClure; musician, R. J. Smith and K. H. Easley; assistant cook, M. J. Hardin, known as "Happy." He has been with Company K ever since it was first organized and has made every camp with the company since.

Of the eleven squads now on duty are: R. Q. Flournoy, G. H. Lane, J. B. Jenkins, A. M. Cox, P. L. Sullivan, T. A. Dukes, C. B. McKinnney, P. R. Parnell, R. H. Torrence, F. L. Mye.
The roster of Company K at present shows 105 men and three enlisted officers. Several of the old members have joined the company since its mobilization. It is a fact that a few have been heard from who are yet to come in. Up to Sunday night the role of privates numbered 105. The list of privates is: L. Robinson, H. J. Quinlan, A. B. Gonzales, H. J. THE GROCERY SO DIFFERENT

Time Past Due to Buy Dog Tags

The owners of "bow-wows" in Waco must walk the plank within a short time and plank down the necessary amount to purchase a dog tag, or else the little doggie and the big dog will be seized by a marble-hearted policeman, and it will require double the amount of cash to dispose of the case after the cop makes his entry as it will if the matter is handled in the next week or ten days in the regular manner.

The time is long past due for buying the dog tags, that is the purchase is past due, but the erring ones may yet get them for the old price and at the old place, the city hall, and at $1 for the male dogs and $2.50 for the females, if they act now. But if the tags are not bought within a week or ten days, a policeman will make the rounds of the city and go from house to house, getting a line on where the dogs are, and in that case it will cost an extra dollar for each and every dog.

This is the information which was given out yesterday by Commissioner Ben C. Richards, and he very much hopes that the people will act at once in order to avoid the trouble and the added expense.

Praise Given Cotton Palace Exhibits

A prominent resident of the Second ward, speaking of the exhibits of the Cotton Palace, and the necessity for emphasizing agriculture in the great institution, said:

"I am glad to see the movement to raise the standard for the Cotton Palace, and think there will be a general response, as the institution is one which has done much to advertise the city."

"It is to be hoped, also, that the management will take steps to continually emphasize agriculture, livestock and textile exhibits. Ours is an agricultural country, the finest on the globe, and we should take full advantage of the wonderful production of this section in presenting exhibits to the world. Cotton is king, and other crops the subjects, and these should be woven into everything at the Cotton Palace in some manner, otherwise the name is a misnomer. Livestock must also be kept right at the front, as each year is adding to our importance in this respect, and we are getting to be more like the rich and powerful parts of Iowa. The Cotton Palace is growing and expanding each year, and now will keep up its great record for push and will put agriculture, horticulture and livestock matters to the fore and keep them there."

These Are the Signs of Good Health—Has Your Baby All of Them?

Has he a good appetite—a clear pink skin—bright, wide-open eyes—alert, spry muscles—a contented little face? Does he gain each week in weight—does he sleep quietly with eyes and mouth tightly closed?

If he hasn't one and all of these things—look out. Something is wrong with him. And nine times in ten that something is his food. Your baby can't grow strong if he doesn't have the right food. Nurse your baby, if you can. If you can't, wean him on

Nestlé's Food

(A Complete Food—Not a Milk Modifier)

Don't give him raw cow's milk. Cow's milk needs a calf's stomach to digest it. "Cow's milk, as ordinarily marketed is unfit for human consumption," says the U. S. Government.

But there is something in cow's milk that is good for your baby, if that something is modified and purified so that it is as light, as satisfying and as pure as mother's milk itself. That is what is done for you in Nestlé's Food.

It comes to you reduced to a powder—in an air-tight can. You add only water—boil one minute—and it's ready with just the right amount of fats, proteins, and carbohydrates that will make a healthy baby.

SAINT PAUL'S MEN'S CLUB HAS PROGRAM TONIGHT

Under provision of Mrs. T. N. McMullen, some of the city's favorite artists will appear in program for Saint Paul's Men's club tonight. In addition, other women are making ready the supper. For music, voice and piano, with reading, are bespoken by Mrs. McMullen, Misses Sallie Keith and Minnie Johnston, Mrs. J. W. Carroll, Early Busby, Allen McDonald and Mr. Stockman. This will be the last meeting of this club until another summer has passed.

MRS. NANNIE WEBB CURTIS AT HOME FOR TWO WEEKS

Following the state convention in Fort Worth, Mrs. Nannie Webb Curtis, president Women's Christian Temperance Union, is at home until the first of June. After this, Mrs. Curtis fills a round of chautauqua and lecture engagements. She begged not to be re-elected president of the Texas Union, but was over-persuaded. However, the W. C. T. U. work has grown to such proportions that while Mrs. Curtis remains the nominal president, and upon her the responsibility rests; yet, with a secretary and a more active vice-president, the burden of clerical work is lightened.

FULL GAME OF MEMBERS WITH MRS. MONTGOMERY

It is the score of Mrs. Robert Montgomery as hostess, that every playing member of the Young Married Ladies' Bridge club was present for her game. The three who are out for an extended time found their places supplied by the Mesdames Wilbur Crawford, Gardner Gillespie and Lewis Stephens. As the game closed, Mrs. Montgomery invited her guests to the dining room for a more general sociability during refreshments. In the meantime, the Mesdames Ed Thompson, Chapin Seely, W. C. Richter and W. A. Little joined the company. The prizes fell to Mrs. Buford McWhirter and Mrs. Lewis Early. On next Tuesday, the club meets with Mrs. J. M. McCutchan. The round of hostesses will not be completed before late June days.

MISS DOROTHY FINLEY HAS GARDEN GUESTS

In special compliment to Miss Mary Alice Cochran, who is visiting from Houston, Miss Dorothy Finley invited a company for her home on Tuesday evening. In addition, there was the glorious full moon and the spacious lawn for the first of the evening's al fresco in this incoming season. It was all quite informal, but a jolly company. Refreshments were offered within doors. Miss Finley invited to spend this evening with Miss Cochran the Mesdames Estelle Anderson of Houston, Edwin Sturge, Katherine Reynolds, Frances Hays, Lucile Lewis, Ethel Foster, Pauline McLendon and Mildred Fort, with C. B. McCollum, Walter Fort, John Davis, Sidney Hevis, Willard Wiley, Elroy Arnold, Ross Padgett, Joe Willis, Holt Massey, Ed Humphries, William Beck, George Cole, A. B. Cowan and P. L. Downs, Jr., of Temple.

MRS. ARTHUR COLEMAN HOSTESS AT BRIDGE

The homecoming of the two matron sisters, Mrs. Ernest Raines from Galveston, and Mrs. William Hulbert from Oklahoma City, was inspiration to Mrs. Arthur Coleman at her bridge playing friends. This was done amid a bower of pink and white roses which suggested further tone for wrapping the prizes packages, for the surprise birthday cake, and in other ways. Following the round of tables, it was noticed that Mrs. Hulbert, all unknown herself, was birthday honoree. Her birthday cake, all bedecked, entered, and, as she cut the first slice, found the golden egg, so to speak, her birthday gift within. Other favors were, headed by Mrs. E. L. Wallace and culled an honor for Mrs. Raines. In addition, there was the merit of cutting for a favor at each table. These were by the Mesdames: P. Massey, G. B. Foscoe, V. C. McIntyre, Robert Coleman, T. N. McMullen and Miss Cotton. Other guests were the Mesdames D. B. Cannon, W. Barclay, Howard Sanger, M. Brodie, Edwin Carroll, Harvey Penland, D. B. Wilson, C. L. Elkins, Mason of Saint Louis, V. E. Staley, Robert Hatten, H. B. Sligh, L. C. Williams, with the Mesdames Ed Forrester, Clara Evans, Lucile Evans, Rowena Barrett, Marian Shaffer of Dallas, Cotton and Jones.

JUDGE AND MRS. SPELL PRESENT MRS. HUNTER

To more than the hundred from among their friends, Judge and Mrs. W. E. Spell presented their home guest, Mrs. Lin Hunter of Austin, on Tuesday evening. In a room of the personal pleasure, the occasion opened the garden party season. Society has come to claim its privilege in a gathering under the great southern moon, early each season, when the garden, the most picturesque in all the city, is at its zenith of beauty. The rolling grounds, the thick green carpet, the rustic bridge leading to the lake, the white picket fence, the Dorothy Perkins fence dotted with tiny electric bulbs, these, together with the romance of a string band, the flock of color in rug, and the alluring scent of roses, when the garden is in full setting for introducing Mrs. Hunter. Punch attractively served as well as a more lingering spot for enjoying the plate of salad was refreshment for the guests. Informal and friendly assisted as hostess, among these being the Mesdames C. E. Smith, Allan Sanford, W. W. Woodson, George McLendon, Nelson Smith, Geo. Crepel, George Zizina, Miss Nellie Dancy. Just enough of the informal was injected to induce the lingering rather than the conventional call, and the jolly good time. This was the first of Mrs. Hunter to Waco society, and she saw this under highly favorable condition.

WOMAN'S CLUB PICNIC CLOSES CLUB YEAR

The usual delightful outing in picnic style closed the Woman's club for another successful year; not, however, before the passage of the loving cup had come with Mrs. Len Gray Kendall and before the club is committed to study. Brooding next. The country club found the house committee, the Mesdames H. C. Black, J. R. Milam and W. E. Darden, ready for dinner service of delicious delicacies. Frazie and garden flowers were on the tables. The club music gave another feature other than more informal enjoyment of a day in the woods. Miss Bernice Young contributed some of her club's first guests. Each member was privileged a guest, in addition to several bespoken by the club as a whole. Of these last were Mrs. E. M. Dotson, president of the City Federation, and Mrs. Hawkins, president of the Baylor Round Table. Those who enjoyed the day, club members and their guests, were, the Mesdames Bernice Young, Grace Prather, Ada Fisher, Margaret Bush of Boston, Gertrude Bush, Mildred Corbett of Dallas, Pauline McCauley, with the Mesdames O. E. Arbeckie, Payne, Llewellyn Aubrey, Forest Goodman, A. J. Dossett, George McLendon, A. J. Armstrong, William Breunert, Leo Davis, W. E. Darden, W. W. Seley, F. Arthur Johnson, Allan Sanford, N. H. Williams of Alabama, J. L. Kesler, S. P. Brooks, William Sleeper, Leslie Gardner, J. E. Gwynn, Charles Boynton, J. D. Willis, M. E. Willis, George Irwin, J. A. Early, H. C. Black, W. W. Woodson, J. R. Milam, Ermine Carrington, R. G. Patton, J. W. Hale, H. B. Mistrot, A. B. Wells, Len Gray Kendall, John E. Kendall, W. O. Wilkes, George Willis, and Charles Hamilton.

Society Notes

The W. B. Brazelton household reunites with the Waco community. Thursday, Miss Nancy Joy Brazelton returns from school in Washington City; on Friday, Charles Brazelton will be at home from Bingham school, North Carolina. The Texas delegation for the great Biennial is leaving, each woman with copy of the state song. This means some lusty singing during convention days, to tell of "Texas" to the tune of "Dixie."

Cultivate the habit of telephoning your new items voluntarily. It is easy for one woman to keep abreast of her own home and her own club; it is difficult for one woman to keep abreast of all the women's homes and clubs.

Owing to her expected early departure for an extended stay in Mississippi, Miss Eleanor Blair has resigned from the Bachelor Maids.

The first of June finds the S. Arch-enhold home on North Sixteenth street closed for the summer. Miss Clara Arch-enhold goes to New Haven, Connecticut, for the graduation of University. In the meantime, Mrs. Arch-enhold becomes matron of a cottage for the season at Waukesha.

As newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Gillespie did their first duty as chaplains with the pool party of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dewey.

In leaving on Saturday, Mrs. John Wright goes first to witness the graduation of her niece from Dallas, in a Washington school, from there the party goes to New York City for the great Biennial, sightseeing and other city recreation until middle June.

While we are considering other danger device, why not train the little ones in alighting from a street car, next to pass before the car. This is one of our present dangerous street practices.

The Sisterhood garden party with Mrs. A. S. Haber, the large garden gathering with the Mesdames Stirling and Hale, the attractive program for Saint Paul's Men's club, all these, with smaller affairs, brings today to a busy time socially.

Why not begin the city custom with our street cars, that of rising in the seat just before our place for alighting. The conductor by this can give signals, and do away with much of the flurry we now practice within the car.

Children as well as grown-ups seem very much interested in the garden contests; by the way, who won in the "Made-in-Waco" essay writing?

Remember, those commencement and graduating parties, the manner in which they are folded, addressed and delivered. It is the small things which count.

Do not forget to let the Morning News know all about your summer plans just as soon as these are definite.

The women say "Amen!" Commence Harlow. "The acreage that the city has sufficient parks now. The acre is, to see that these are kept at their highest point of beauty. By the way, that was a glowing tribute ex-Mrs. Mackey paid the women at 'quay park'.

PAINFUL BETTER ON HANDS AND FACE

Broke Out in Red Spots. Would Itch and Burn. Could Not Put Hands in Water.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Since childhood I had been a sufferer from tetter on my hands and face would break out in great red spots which would itch and burn and be quite painful at times. The skin was very sore and inflamed and the itching would get so bad that I would just have to scratch the parts affected. At times I could not put my hands in water and I could not go out in the wind. It was very disgusting and I looked horrid."

"Then I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I saw at once that it relieved me. I then got a large box of Ointment and a cake of Soap and the result was simply marvelous for in two months I was completely healed. Signed, Mrs. J. R. Furrow, 1287 Windsor Ave., Bristol, Tenn., July 15, 1915."

THE GOLDSTEIN-MIGEL CO.

"WACO'S GREATEST DEPARTMENT STORE"

MATTER OF KEEPING FOOD INSPECTOR IS STILL BEING TALKED

That the matter of a pure food inspector in Waco is not yet on a settled basis is indicated by some things which have been happening of late, and it looks as though the question may be raised soon with added energy. It is possible that the new plan of having a bacteriologist for the city and water company may be continued, but this does not seem probable now.

It is known that the proposition of having a pure food inspector who shall give all his time to the proposition is still in the minds of a part of the commission, and it has the enthusiastic backing of most of the women's organizations of the city, these ladies having recently visited Mayor Dooling in this connection, pressing home the claim that the man who looks after the purity of the things that the people here eat should be unhampered and have nothing else to do except to perform his duty, in order to perform it properly.

The matter is incubating, as it were, but may come up at any time, and when it does is likely to occasion some debate and arouse general interest. One plan which is in the minds of a part of the commission is to provide for the expense, or at least a part of the expense of the office of a food inspector, by making a small inspection charge for his services, this going to the city and serving to provide a part of the remuneration he will receive, this inspection fee to be paid, of course, by the person whose animals or other food products are inspected.

The ladies have not given up their hopes of a food inspector who shall devote all his time and attention to the work, and as stated it is known definitely that serious consideration to a plan for a new method of handling this proposition is in the minds and is being considered by a part of the city commission. This is a matter which has proved to be a vexed proposition for the past several years and it seems a difficult matter to get it in a form where it is entirely satisfactory to all concerned.

Cotton for Fall Delivery Selling at 12 Cents Pound

Selling cotton at 12c a pound for fall delivery does not look or sound like poverty and distress for the farming element of this section, and yet it is, for what some of the farmers have been doing, according to a prominent resident of Waco who owns land around Mart.

The gentleman states that several hundred bales of cotton have been contracted for fall delivery by the farmers around Mart, and presumably this is the case with other sections of this county and section.

Those who are following at Mart, he said, was to sell about half of what they are reasonably expected to make this fall at 12c a pound, holding the other in order to play safe all around.

It is figured that the farmers who get 12c for half their cotton will receive a pretty fair price for all of it, as this will bring up the average on the remainder. Some are not going into the matter, however, as they believe that prices might go skyrocketing in case the war should end, and a few are prejudiced against tying themselves up in any kind of contract for the future.

At any rate, the fact that farmers even have the chance to sell for future delivery at 12c a pound looks good, even if it is inexpedient, as some of them seem to think that they should avail themselves of the opportunity.

Farmers Lend Helping Hand to George Fryer of Robinson

Gathering in large numbers for the purpose of working out the crop of the stricken neighbor, and thereby aid in alleviating the heavy burden under which he has been placed, citizens of the Robinson community yesterday were asked to have gone to the farm of George Fryer, where they staid and worked hard in order to "pull him out" of the weeds which had grown up recently. During the last ten days Mr. Fryer has been withdrawn from his field by the series of unhappy occurrences which began with the awful attack on his wife early last week by Jesse Washington, negro.

Word came to Waco yesterday from neighbors of Mr. Fryer that the people were working out his crop and otherwise aiding him to get where he can manage it in future. His farm is located about a mile from Robinson.

HIS DAY COMETH.

(Isaiah 13:9-11)

Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate; and He shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it. For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light; the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause the light to shine.

And I will punish the world for their evil and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogance of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible.

GEMS WORTH

Never before did a president of the United States make an appeal for the moral support of the people as direct as that which Woodrow Wilson made in his talk to Washington correspondents on Tuesday.

There were so many things in this speech worth repeating, that every citizen ought to read it twice.

These are gems that sparkle with the light of truth and Americanism:

"The only thing that saves the world is the little handful of disinterested men who are in it."

"There never was a time in the history of the world when character—just sheer character, all by itself—told more than it does now."

"When I give a man an office I watch him carefully to see whether he is swelling or growing."

"I have come through the fire. If I may believe my own thoughts, I have less partisan feeling, more impatience with party maneuvers, more enthusiasm for the right thing, no matter whom it hurts, than I ever had before in my life."

"If you leave a live thing alone, it will not stay where it is. It will develop and will either go in the wrong direction or decay."

"You have to run fast merely to stay where you are and in order to get anywhere you have to run twice as fast as that."

"We particularly need now men who will divest themselves of party passion and of personal preference, and will try to think in terms of America."

"I love the fellows that come in my office sometimes and say, 'Mr. President, I am an American.'"

Americans who value their country above any other country have fresh cause from day to day to rejoice in the fact that the most trying time in its history finds Woodrow Wilson in the White House.

The two big bodies of Methodism in the United States will no doubt soon be unified. Leaders of christian thought are coming to recognize that the battles of christianity to be fought in the future will involve new conditions and new problems, and will call for better organization and more vigorous methods. Today is nearing its end. Tomorrow will soon be here.

Those who are concerned about the fact that insane persons are being crowded into Texas jails should take heart. The suspended sentence law and a few other crime promoters will soon be working so successfully that there will really be no need for jails, and then every institution of that sort may be converted into an insane asylum.

The available military force under the bill for army organization agreed upon by the two houses of congress will be 718,500 men. That will not be a big army from a European point of view, but it will be big enough, with the help of Theodore Roosevelt, to whip anything west of the Atlantic shore line.

Agricultural Commissioner Davis claims that he would be able to show by the use of demonstration farms, to be scattered throughout the country, that a man can earn a good living on a forty-acre farm in Texas. There's no doubt of that, Mr. Davis, if he farms it like forty.

Frank Holland, who votes in Texas, and is a citizen of the United States, was elected president of the Associated Farm papers, in session at Chicago. When outsiders come to Texas to pick a leader, they generally find one who is big enough to fill any sort of presidency.

Von Molke says the chief aim of America is good business. At least he ought to give us credit for being a little chary about accepting the note of hand of a fellow whose opinion of his own note is that it isn't worth any more than an ordinary scrap of paper.

The International Mercantile Marine Co. went into a receivership in April, 1915. Its net earnings under a receiver for 1915 were over $41,000,000, against $9,600,000 for 1913. These "war brides" of ours dress like Cleopatra, and warble like a calliope.

This is the daily routine of life in Texas just now: "John Doe spoke here today. Richard Roe will speak here tomorrow." The question concerns whether the prospective cotton crop is getting a square deal.

Sergeant Chicken, the Apache scout, thus reported the Ojo Azules skirmish: "Him damn fine fight." Chicken boils things down artistically enough to hold a place on the News' staff.

The fight on Tom Love for national committeeman furnishes just the incentive to set Tom hot on the trail. He wouldn't care a rap for the office if he could get it without a scrap.

General Salazar, a follower of Orozco, who lately heralded himself as the prophet of a new revolution, has been caught stealing flour. The next step after revolution down there is devolution.

Silver is climbing up. Where, oh, where is Coin Harvey, to start a pacan of violence?

Texas Siftings

The Mart Herald says that Hon. J. W. Alston, candidate for floratorial representative, is making a splendid campaign in the Sixty-third district. His platform includes: Reducing poll tax from $1.75 to $1.25; passing platform demands and appropriation bills in regular session; no extra session except in case of absolute necessity; laboring men of all classes should receive just recompense for their toil.

State Senator H. L. Darwin of Cooper is beating up the brush in East Texas in fine style. He wants to be congressman-at-large from Texas.

Hon. Joseph W. Bailey has advised the executive committee of the Hopkins County Old Settlers' association that he will address them on July 19, during the annual reunion of old settlers.

Former Governor Campbell, aspirant for the United States senatorial toga, is not letting any opportunity which presents itself pass him. At Tyler the other day he spoke in behalf of organized labor, the event being well staged and splendidly acted on both sides.

Roy Wilson has returned to his home in Mart from the state carpenters' convention at Port Arthur, where he was elected as a delegate. He says the carpenters' union at Port Arthur has 275 members and all are at work. The thirteenth annual convention will be held in Austin next May.

Corpus Christi Times tells of great excitement among the women folks of Rocktown recently. A couple of Mexicans appeared on the streets, occasionally stopping and digging into the ground, and placing a wire and tin can in the hole. When apprehended by officers they explained that they were not placing bombs, but trapping red ants, to be used in making poitices for the wife of one of the Mexicans.

Census takers for a directory being made for Port Arthur estimate the population at 18,000, a gain of nearly 1,000 in one year.

Dr. W. A. Bedford of Thornton is a candidate for congress from the Sixth district, against Rufus Hardy, present incumbent. He says he is a local optionist and opposed to woman suffrage.

Negro Tries to Swim Across Pond and Drowns—Senior Class Entertained.

Special to the Morning News.
Marlin, May 17.—After lying in an unconscious condition since he was hit in the head by a tenant Monday evening, Nie Potka died at his home today. This city's morning alms was paid to him about sixty years of age. In a statement before Justice H. L. Cobb, at the inquest this morning, Frank Commiski declared he grabbed a plank and hit Potka with it only when Potka started after him with a brick following a dispute regarding the working of a team after 6 o'clock in the afternoon, on ground being cultivated by Frank Commiski on shares. Commiski, who was arrested yesterday on charges of assault, was re-arrested today on a charge of murder.

Despite the warnings of other negroes, Frank Foster rowed a boat to the center of T. W. Handers' pond last night, about 10 o'clock, and jumped in to swim to the bank, drowning in about ten feet of water. Foster was not considered to be much of a swimmer and that caused the warnings to be given him.

W. L. Wood, F. M. Oakes and C. G. Cooley, sitting as the city board of tax equalization, today ordered about 194 notices to be sent property owners of Marlin, calling for them to appear before the board during the last week of this month to show why their renditions should not be raised.

The senior class of the Marlin high school was entertained last night with an elaborate "garden party" by Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Rice.

The following Waco people are registered at Marlin hotels: J. P. Pritchett, R. L. Matthews, C. L. Irvine, C. L. Turner and J. H. Boone.

Aggie Students Plan Mock Democratic Convention

Special to the Morning News.
College Station, May 17.—There may be no doubt as to the final action of the national democratic convention at St. Louis with reference to the nomination for the presidency, but there is some doubt as to the outcome of the national democratic convention which will be held at the A. & M. college Saturday night, May 20.

There has been a sharp division in the ranks of the A. & M. cadets and the agricultural students are urging Champ Clark as against the engineers' choice of Woodrow Wilson for the nomination. The convention will be staged by the seniors of the schools of agriculture and engineering as a part of the work of the course in public speaking, an important part of the English instruction in the graduating year.

Floor leaders already have been appointed in secret caucus and a warm fight is expected to develop. The first clash will come over the selection of a chairman. J. P. Garitty of the engineers, is acting chairman, but W. K. Hanson, a "bug hunter," is opposing him.

W. J. Bryan will be a duly accredited delegate to the convention and will be seated with the delegation from Hawaii. The prohibition democrats and advocates of woman's suffrage are planning to take an active part in the convention. Admission to the convention will be by ticket only, and there is a heavy demand for passes on the part of faculty and campus residents. Impromptu speeches on current events, agricultural and engineering topics, and questions on parliamentary procedure, feature the work in public speaking instruction.

AUTREY REPLIES TO NICHOLS

Says That Assistant Attorney General Nichols Does Not State Things Correctly as to the Brewers.

Editor News:

In your issue of yesterday you carry a letter from Luther Nichols, which is an attack upon the head of the farmers' organization.

I have no remarks to make upon the attack; the farmers are amply able to defend themselves from such venom as Nichols exudes. What concerns me, and I will not allow to pass without notice, is that line wherein he used the word, "convicted brewers." Mr. Nichols is the assistant attorney general who pried into the private correspondence files of the breweries, and sat in the brewery offices for weeks reading private correspondence, a proceeding which, if authorized by law, ought to be and is repugnant and repulsive to any person of refined sensibility. Even had Nichols should say it was a duty he had to discharge, he cannot help feeling that he performed a task that jars the conscience of a clean, high mind.

Mr. Nichols knows he is not correct when he used the phrase, "convicted brewers." He knows there was no conviction had in the suit by the attorney general against the brewers. He knows the suits against six of the companies were compromised, neither side yielding to the contention of the other, the brewery companies stoutly maintaining they had not violated the anti-trust laws, and the attorney general conceding that they had, but not pressing the suit to trial and judicial determination.

The decrees entered in the compromise cases are the best and only evidence of what the result of the suits was and no one (and specially an assistant attorney general) has the right to misstate the decree of the compromise. In one of the brewery cases there was no compromise judgment, but an agreed statement of facts and a resulting agreed judgment entered against the state of Texas by the attorney general, establishing forever that there existed no guilt for violation of the anti-trust laws and the election laws.

I, for one of the brewers, will not permit flimsy of this character to pass unnoted, even if I think that such unnoted really mean no disparagement and are used only for political effect.

DAILY SHORT STORY.

ONE MAN'S HOBBY.

By SUSAN E. CLAGETT.

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Elizabeth Teaton laughed as she walked around the beech tree and examined the markings on its trunk—two hearts pierced by an arrow and encircled by the legend, "Fancies for thoughts, rosemary for remembrance."

"You are ever so foolish as that," she asked herself. Then the laugh died in a sigh as she walked on, pushing her way through the tangle of ragweed that obstructed her path.

Below her, beneath the water gap, and on its edge the leaves of the same showed the first touch of frost. As she crossed the branch on the rough log that formed the bridge, she passed again. Everywhere were memories and mingling with them a soft, clear whistle, once so familiar a sound it occasioned no surprise when she reached the farm gate to see a man stretching out a hand to open it.

"I thought you would come," he said quietly. "I was so sure that I sent the team around the road and walked through the lane." He looked about with intense enjoyment. Then his eyes rested upon her face. "The years have made no change in you. You are not one day older. Your eyes are sparkling and your mouth has the same adorable kink at the corner that—"

He came through the gate and stood beside her. "You received my letter?"

"No. Did you write?"

"Then I owe you good luck to Providence. I asked you to meet me here. But I had hoped for a different reception. Elizabeth, won't you give me a word of welcome?"

"I have first to forget years of absence and silence," she said slowly.

"Why do women treasure such things against a man?" he asked impatiently. "Absence makes the heart grow fonder and 'silence is golden.'"

"And 'out of sight, out of mind.'"

She smiled at him with unconcerned eyes. "What have you been doing all the years you have forgotten friends and country?"

Alabama Moose for Roosevelt.

By the Associated Press.

Birmingham, May 17.—Alabama progressives at their state convention here today adopted a resolution endorsing "Roosevelt and Americanism" and elected a delegation to the national convention instructed for Roosevelt.

"Always, when I am not an interested party."

"You—an interested party?" he questioned.

"Could it be otherwise when you were at the house every day and all day?" she asked severely.

"I was mistaken. Memory is a factor to be reckoned with," he commented dryly.

She brushed the litter from her dress. That made him stretch out a movement hand.

"Don't go. It is very pleasant here even if I am disappointed in the warmth of my guests, and I do so wish to tell you of my gas. I wrote you about it."

It was a good letter, although you evidence no interest in it."

She shook her head even as she paused to look at her watch.

"I'm afraid you ride an old man's hobby. Come to the house and tell me in the firelight. The air is cutting frost."

He gave her a quick look and his voice lost its bantering note. "No, I must tell it here." He hesitated a barely perceptible instant. "It is a hobby. Dear, you should see my beds of pansies and rosemary."

"The color flared into her face. 'You had prepared me for a garden of orchids, but even old-fashioned flowers can be a delight for surplus energy. You always did throw your body and soul into whatever you undertook to do.'"

"Why not, Elizabeth? I am in perfect health. I have passed the age when one glowers at the moon because the fair one is cruel. But all the same I am taking this pretty hard. This is Monday. I must be in my office Thursday morning. Important business requires my attention, else I would remain here and begin at the beginning of things. Ten years is absent from my thoughts. I would have written, but there was nothing to say. I had nothing to offer you. The best I could do was to work for a home for you. It has taken me ten years. Will you accept it? Will you go back with me Wednesday?"

Her eyes swept the fields. From the cover near the branch she heard the partridge calling. She paused so long that the man beside her caught his breath and grasped the rail of the gate until his knuckles showed white. Then she turned to him.

"It will be a delight to see those old-fashioned flower borders," she said lamely.

May Not Know Result of Essay Contest for Two Weeks

Due to the large number of entries received in the prize essay contest for pupils of the grammar schools, the winners will not be announced until about two weeks, as it is not believed that all papers can be judged by this time. This was announced last night by Mrs. W. J. Wicely, chairman of the committee in charge, representing the City Federation of Women's clubs, under whose auspices the contest is being held.

Mrs. Wicely said there is a number of splendid compositions included in the entries and that they will be graded as soon as possible, a special effort to be made to have them ready to return to the pupils before this school term terminates.

The Only Way To Stop Food Fermentation

Neutralize Stomach Acidity, Prevent Indigestion by Taking a Little Magnesia.

It is the gas generated by sour fermenting food that distends your stomach and causes you to have a flushed face after eating, with headaches, heartburn, flatulence, sour rising, etc., and the reason why drugs and peppermint pills and various digestive aids do not give you relief is that they have little or no effect upon the acidity that has formed in your stomach and which physicians have proved to be the chief cause of practically all forms of stomach trouble. An agent must be used to neutralize the harmful stomach acid, and there is nothing better for this purpose than ordinary bicarbonate of soda. You can obtain bicarbonate of soda in powder or tablet form. It cannot injure the stomach, is inexpensive and in the majority of cases a teaspoonful of the powder or two tablets taken with a little water after meals will be found quite sufficient to instantly neutralize excessive acidity of the stomach and thus prevent all possibility of indigestion.

A hard rain which was encountered yesterday afternoon by Dr. L. L. McGlasson, who was on his way in an auto to Moody with former Governor O. B. Colquitt, prevented the party from reaching Moody, and therefore the speaking which was staged for that place at 2 o'clock was not held, and the auto party was forced to turn back to Waco. A telephone message was at once dispatched to Moody by Mr. Colquitt on reaching Waco, stating the cause of the failure to reach the speaking point in time to deliver the address.

Others joined them during the day, including Col. Abe Gross and a number of other well known citizens of Waco, and the visitor was shown around the city. About the middle of the afternoon yesterday Mr. Colquitt, Dr. McGlasson and one or two others left Waco in a machine for Mart, where the former was due to speak last night.

German Evangelic Conference Opens

Inclement weather of yesterday prevented the Texas district of the German Evangelical synod of North America of the German Evangelical church Robinson, and it is believed that a full attendance will be present at sessions today. Only routine business was transacted last night. The proposition of having the district establishing a synodical school in Texas will probably receive attention at today's session. Rev. C. Wolff, pastor of the German Evangelical church of Fort Worth, is president of the conference. Already a movement has started at Robinson to secure the school, should the synod decide to start such an institution in the state. Prof. John Strauss and a committee from Robinson have already appeared before the Waco Young Men's Business League asking this organization's assistance in landing the school.

PERSONAL MENTION

W. D. Chandler of Cisco is visiting his granddaughter, Mrs. I. C. Anderson of Thirty-fourth and Gorman streets. Mr. Chandler is an old resident of Texas and is a most interesting talker, having a specially good memory and abounding with information on earlier days in Texas, and particularly the portion of the state from which he comes.

A. B. Cowan has returned from a visit to San Angelo, where he spent awhile with H. W. Westbrook.

Sidney King of the Wabash railroad was here yesterday from Dallas.

Judge N. A. Rector and wife of Austin are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hubby of this city. Judge Rector is a candidate for the appellate court. He is well known to a number of persons here.

Former Governor O. B. Colquitt spent awhile here yesterday, going then to Moody and later to Mart to speak.

W. L. Lipscomb of Memphis was in Waco yesterday morning on business matters.

J. W. Brownlee of Dallas was in Waco on business yesterday.

William Williams of Gatesville passed a part of yesterday in this city.

Constable J. H. Pugh of Greenville was here yesterday on his way to the training school at Gatesville.

Sheriff W. W. Hollingsworth of Coryell county spent awhile here yesterday, returning from St. Louis on official business.

Foster W. Fort is making an extended trip through the north and east in the interest of a business proposition.

A. L. Mayhew, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Iron Mountain-Missouri Pacific railroad, was here yesterday from Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Tinsley of Abbot were shopping in the city yesterday. Mr. Tinsley is one of Hill county's most extensive farmers, and is a breeder of fine stock as well. He was a pleasant caller at the News office during his stay in the city.

Charles J. Poe, a well known citizen of San Saba, spent yesterday here.

James L. Bridges, a popular representative of the Pennsylvania lines at Dallas, was circulating among the railroad boys yesterday.

W. R. Sheppard of Dallas was here yesterday.

Dr. H. R. Dudgeon was removed to his beautiful new home at Twenty-second and Gorman streets.

J. O. Lehen of Terrell was here yesterday.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

That a raging hunger is responsible for the death of many of the dogs which have been slain by city authorities was the view expressed yesterday by one of the officers who was said going out to kill a dog, and he said that a number of calls were coming in from time to time to go this place or that and kill a dog which had been "taken with a fit." The officer thought that some dogs, particularly the ones belonging to negroes, have undergone so much hunger that they are eating bones and rotten meats which are dangerous even for canines, resulting in the fits which are so much in evidence.

An unusual number of railroad men have been making Waco in the past two or three weeks. Most of these represented the freight departments of their lines, and were brought here by the news that cotton shipments were going out of this place.

Some of the Waco pharmacists are in Fort Worth attending the state meeting of pharmacists. The gathering is held annually in some one of the Texas cities.

The board of water commissioners of the city will meet next Monday night. The meeting was to have been held last Monday night, but there had been so much to do in connection with the visit here of the convention of the Southwestern Waterworks association that it was not thought best to try to hold the meeting until Monday night next. At that time regular business will receive attention.

The cool nights which are in evidence again of late have drawn attention once more to the late spring, and to the claims of those who predicted the late spring that a late Easter always results that way.

Delegates will soon be leaving for the state democratic and republican conventions, to be held in San Antonio and Fort Worth, respectively. The progressive state convention has been called for Waco. These conventions will be held the same day, according to law, the date being May 23.

German Evangelic Conference Opens

Inclement weather of yesterday prevented the Texas district of the German Evangelic church from being well attended last night at Robinson, and it is believed that a full attendance will be present at sessions today. In this state, Prof. John Strauss and a committee from Robinson to secure the school, should the synod decide to start such an institution in this state. The proposition of having the district establishing a synodical school in Texas will probably receive attention at today's session. Rev. C. Wolff, pastor of the German Evangelic church of Fort Worth, is president of the conference.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

That a raging hunger is responsible for the death of many of the dogs which have been slain by city authorities was the view expressed yesterday by one of the officers who was just going out to kill a dog, and he said that a number of calls were coming in from time to time to go this place or that and kill a dog which had been taken with a fit.

Some dogs, particularly the ones belonging to negroes, have undergone so much hunger that they are eating bones and rotten meats which are dangerous even for canines, resulting in the fits which are so much in evidence.

An unusual number of railroad men have been making Waco in the past two or three weeks. Most of these represented the freight departments of their lines, and were brought here by the news that cotton shipments were going out of this place.

Some of the Waco pharmacists are in Fort Worth attending the state meeting of pharmacists. The gathering is held annually in some one of the Texas cities.

The board of water commissioners of the city will meet next Monday night. The meeting was to have been held last Monday night, but there had been so much to do in connection with the visit here of the convention of the Southwestern Waterworks association that it was not thought best to try to hold the meeting until Monday night next. At that time regular business will receive attention.

The cool nights which are in evidence again of late have drawn attention more to the late spring, and to the claims of those who predicted the late spring that a late Easter always results that way.

Delegates will soon be leaving for the state democratic and republican conventions to be held in San Antonio and Fort Worth, respectively. The progressive state convention has been called for Waco. These conventions will all be held the same day, according to law, the date being May 23.

Court Will Decide Wrestling Title

By the Associated Press.
New York, May 17.—Whether Edward (Strang) Lewis or Alexander Aberg has the best right to claim the world's wrestling championship is a question placed today before Federal Judge Mayer, Aberg produced from Judge Mayer the issuance of a temporary injunction enjoining Lewis, whose real name is Robert Friedrich, from going about the country posing as the champion wrestler of the world and using circulars and pictures detailing his defeat of Aberg for the world's honors.

In his complaint Aberg claims the championship, saying he wrestled the honors from Lewis in their recent bout here.

Sporting Comment

McGraw's Giants won another game.

Just one more chance at the Oiler—if it don't rain.

Pick, the Athletics' thirdacker, stole four bases at St. Louis yesterday but the Browns won, 7 to 4.

Konetchy and Compton were the only Braves who did not leave at least one hit yesterday at Cincinnati.

Let us introduce the Pittsburgh Pirates, who by not playing yesterday, forced the G'ints out of the cellar.

Detroit goes to New York today. They may have a chance to see if Ty Cobb can steal bases off of Al Walters.

Three days away from home and the Naves are still in first position. And Budde Tanner will be back with 'em in a day or so.

All three games in the Central Texas league were rained out. At Marlin the score was Marlin 4, Terrell 1, when the rain came in the fourth inning.

The Buffs are beginning to be a reality again. Edmondson held the Panthers to three scattered singles and Newman's bunch eked out a 2 to 1 victory.

Hardy will almost be able to use anybody he wants to today, for the rain let 'em all rest up. The reason Moore walked will help settle Lefty Hill down a little.

The Tigers outbit the Senators, had the bases full in the ninth and lost six to four when Ayers struck Dalton out. Too bad Cobb or Heilmann could not have been at bat.

Packard acted like a Navigator twirler yesterday. Probably proved easy to hit, he annexed two two-baggers and a single in three times at bat, scored twice, and started a double play.

Centerfielder Williams earned whatever salary the Cubs are paying him yesterday. Out of four tries at bat he got a home run, a two-bagger and two singles, stole a base and made four put-outs.

Gene Moore had a wild day but got away with a win. Dallas' moundmen were wilder and the reason Moore walked six, struck out nine and allowed seven hits. Landry, who opened for Dallas, walked three and Bono, who succeeded him, issued transportation to five. Galveston only got six hits, but they counted for five runs while the Giants' seven bingles only sent one man across the plate.

BUSY DAY AT MCGREGOR.

Special to the Morning News.
McGregor, May 17.—Last Monday Caulfield's baseball team played McGregor's team. The score ended 4 to 5 in favor of Caulfield.

Next followed a game of basketball between Midway's second team and McGregor's third team. The score stood 19 to 10 in favor of McGregor.

The last thing was a game of basketball between Harris Creek's first team and McGregor's first team. Both sides struggled desperately. The first half closed 15 to 15 in favor of Harris Creek. The second half the McGregor team began with renewed vigor, but of no avail, the skilled Harris Creek team was victorious, winning the game by 27 to 15.

CAPTAIN OF NEXT BAYLOR BASEBALL TEAM IS SELECTED

At a meeting of the "13" men of the baseball team of Baylor University yesterday, Lucian Roach of McGregor was unanimously elected as captain of the 1917 team. Roach has been one of the most consistent athletes in the state for the two years that he has been in Baylor and has made his letter in three different sports, football, soccer and baseball.

In football he was one of the best half backs seen in college football last fall. His wonderful sidestep and stiff arm, coupled with his presence of mind while in action brought for him selections on the mythical eleven from many of the coaches of Texas college teams.

In soccer he was often the only man on the ball and in the game against the fast Nomads of Dallas he was the man who kept the ball in their territory incessantly, and with his long kicks was instrumental in making the whole season a success. Without him and his "big" brother, Baylor would not have gotten the collegiate title in that sport.

In baseball he is without a doubt the best outfielder seen anywhere in college baseball this season. He hit over .350 and fielded above .950, so his record is about as good as can be expected. In many games he has saved the situation by making long runs and scoring runs that were labeled three-baggers at the least. He is not sensational except as a steady man who lets an opportunity to carry out the team work of the nine as a whole.

In selecting him as their captain the Baylor club could not have possibly found a man who was more capable of the job. He is very popular among the students and is endowed with natural ability as a leader.

When Hats Are Not High Enough for the Weaver, a Flaring Ruffie with Flowers is Added.

New York, May 17.—The high hat no longer presents a problem of annoyance to the woman who realizes she cannot wear it. The milliners have consented to put broad, flat hats lined into fashion. The world is now filled with broad-brimmed hats and flaring modified Mexican hats that are usually hand-painted. The fastidious woman is apt to become wearied with the latter type of hat, and she is turning to the broad-brimmed hat that looks as though a steam roller had passed over them, still stare at one from every Fifth avenue shop window.

Hand-painted roses arranged in garlands or in straight lines around the crown of the hat, and the most objectionable as the gayly plumed parrot, but even at that, they are not as good as roses of silk or satin.

There are many names for this new kind of hat, which should be prohibited from the management of the crowd, but its crown is merely round and large, and its brim is wide and flat. The Mexican grass was used at first, but now all kinds of coarse fibered straw are built into this headgear.

For the milliner, the hat is a problem, but its crown is merely round and large, and its brim is wide and flat. The Mexican grass was used at first, but now all kinds of coarse fibered straw are built into this headgear.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York.
New York, May 17.—A less favorable view of weather and a revival of peace rumors were followed by a renewal of more or less general buying in the cotton market today. July contracts sold up to 13.10, or back to within 9 points of last week's lowest level.

Liverpool was hardly up to expectations but the market here opened steady at an advance of 1 to 4 points. Houses with Liverpool connections were good buyers, particularly in the early morning. Domestic trade interests were buyers of that position.

The talk around the ring on the advance was more of peace prospects than new crop conditions, however, and after showing a net advance of about 15 to 19 points the buying movement seemed to be checked by the publication of the weekly weather, which indicated that the crop had improved during the week except in droughty sections. July contracts reacted from 13.10 to 13.04, while October sold from 12.10 to 12.11 during the early afternoon under realizing, but offerings were well taken with western interests as buyers.

New Orleans.
By the Associated Press.
New Orleans, May 17.—Cotton advanced moderately in this market today on what looked like a resumption of the buying movement which featured the trading last week. Leading spot interests were credited with large purchases and outside buying was stimulated. At the best of the trading months were 15 to 16 points over yesterday's last prices. The close was at a net rise of 11 to 12 points.

The market opened at the advance, rising 4 to 5 points in the first half hour of business, notwithstanding poor cables. The trade was trading last week's market and prices fell off to about the level of yesterday's close, after which the tone was strengthened in anticipation of bullish weekly crop and weather reports. Good support was given from then on.

—but you need not worry, Mr. Morehouse. He's a wise man and had the forethought to take out an AETNA ACCIDENT AND HEALTH POLICY.

That means my operating fee will be paid and $50 a week—payable monthly—will be yours as long as he's here. After that, $25 a week until he's well and strong again. That ought to lighten the load.

We've had some pretty pitiful cases in this hospital—men brought here for weeks at a time without income of any sort. Their wives have had to work, their children have been kept from school in order that they might earn a few extra pennies to keep body and soul together.

And all this hardship could have been avoided, for it costs very little to

Section Around Falfurrias In Dire Straits; Work Is Needed for Citizens

That portion of Texas surrounding Falfurrias is in dire straits, according to Representative L. P. Strayhorn. While Central Texas and other sections have been getting an abundance of rain, a prolonged drought has prevailed around Falfurrias. The men of that locality need work and C. W. Woodman, commissioner of labor, has issued the following appeal:

"To the Press of Texas: Hon. L. P. Strayhorn, representative of the seventy-eighth district, wires Governor Ferguson that a drought is prevailing in that section of our state surrounding Falfurrias and that suffering is becoming acute.

"Texans will recall that in 1892-1893 suffering became so acute in that section, due to the same cause, government aid was necessary. This we wish to avoid, and can avoid if the press of Texas will urge upon all the people the necessity of providing employment for the sufferers. I have issued a call to all the licensed employment agencies in Texas, more than fifty in number, urging them to give immediate attention to the needs of this section of our state, but that will not be sufficient.

"The labor is unskilled and can be absorbed by the farmers and railroads. "In order that quickest relief possible may be rendered, suggest that farmers and railroads needing men, write, phone or wire Hon. L. P. Strayhorn, Falfurrias, Texas, stating how many men are wanted with full directions as to where the men should go and character of employment."

To Show Effects of Cigarette Smoking by Demonstration

In order to demonstrate the deadly effects of cigarette smoking on the human system, and upon the boyish nervous organism particularly, a novel demonstration will be tried at the high school by Prof. Paul L. Tyson, who has charge of a large contingent of boys ranging around fourteen years of age.

These observant, quick-witted and interesting boys will be shown a container which will have in it clear water and lively little minnows depositing themselves joyously in the limpid depths. A glass tube will be introduced into the water and smoke from a cigarette will be forced into the water, when, presto! what a change will come about in the piscatorial maneuvers of the inhabitants of the waters. From a scene of joyous activity and energetic agitation of the water by the minnows, there will ensue the death of the minnows right before the eyes of the boys.

It will be an illustration which will set many a boy to pondering who would have been slower to take in the assertions regarding the pernicious effects of cigarettes, and is only a part of the training which the young fellows are getting regarding the preservation of their health and morals at the hands of Professor Tyson and others in the high school.

Successful Campaign Conducted to Raise Funds for Sewanee

In order to raise funds for the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tennessee, Bishop George H. Kinsolving of the Episcopal church and Dr. B. G. Sears, the latter a director of Christ Episcopal church in Houston, have just left Waco, having accomplished in the most satisfactory manner the object for which they came here.

Bishop Kinsolving and Mr. Sears were aided very materially in their work by Rector W. P. Witsell of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and the quiet campaign was a most effective and result-getting one. The money raised will be taken in conjunction with funds secured from other sources and used for the school in Sewanee.

It was stated by the visitors that they were well pleased with the results of the financial campaign here, which netted a satisfactory sum.

Training School at Gatesville Brings Splendid Results

Out of more than half a hundred boys taken to the training school at Gatesville in the three years that he has served as county probation officer, only three had to be taken back to Gatesville the second time, stated County Probation Officer E. E. Ingram yesterday.

He said that the training there, and the wholesome influences, were doing the work, and that the influences at work in Waco for uplifting the boys are having their effect. Mr. Ingram believes that this is a remarkable showing regarding the boys, and that it demonstrates clearly the theory that there is a lot of good in every person if only the right way is followed in reaching out after it. In dealing with the boys and girls, in fact all delinquents who come into his hands, Probation Officer Ingram follows practical methods, and his endeavors have done good, without doubt.

There are fewer juveniles going to the training school, and other conditions are getting better continually.

Fire Marshal Trying for Lower Key Rate

The key rate schedule in use in Texas, which shows the charges that enter into such schedule and the credits which are given, has been received here by some of the city officials, including City Fire Marshal Joe Carlisle.

Fire Marshal Carlisle said yesterday that he is working on this schedule in the hope of being able to secure a reduction in Waco's key rate, and that city officials will aid him in this step. A number of matters enter into this key rate proposition, and the various cities strive hard to get all the reduction possible.

Waco's key rate shows up well by comparison with others, but it is hoped to be able to get a still further reduction by complying with the conditions surrounding the fire regulations in Texas.

Map Drawn Showing Waco's Wonderful Trade Territory

A map showing Waco's wonderful trade territory, and indicating, in strong markings, the routes of the railroads which penetrate this territory and connect Waco up with the finest network of growing towns in the state, has been made by Secretary E. F. Drake of the Chamber of Commerce, and this map is a convincing argument of the supremacy and commercial power and prestige which must come to this city if the people here do their duty.

The map brings out the situation silently but saliently and convincingly, and drives home the argument which has often been made that Waco has a 100-mile radius which is not excelled in the wide, wide world from an agricultural standpoint—and by the way, it is beautiful and healthful to a degree which is very unusual.

The map is bound to be a big factor in aiding Waco wherever it is shown.

Steps May Be Taken to Get Carnegie Medals for Wacoans

As an expression of their gratitude for a timely deliverance from a menacing and angry flood which surrounded them on every side, and as a just recognition of a brave and splendid piece of rescue work, it is very probable that an immediate effort will be made to secure a Carnegie hero medal for Guy B. Harrison, 2219 North Fifth street, by the gentlemen who were rescued, together with their families, at the time the exploit occurred, and also a similar medal for W. B. McKinley, now of New Mexico.

It was on May 25, 1908, that J. R. Railey and family and T. E. Haney and family were marooned by the great flood which swept the Bosques with unprecedented fury, and they were caught in the Flat Rock section about twelve or thirteen miles above Waco, northwest, their situation being precarious in the extreme. The water was far higher than it had ever been known in the memory of the white man, and it was known that the chances were against Mr. Railey and Mr. Haney and their families, who had gone there for an outing.

Determined to effect their rescue if humanly possible, Mr. Harrison and William B. McKinley, the latter now in New Mexico, decided to make the daring attempt to cross the raging flood in a little row boat and get the two families out. They made the start from a point not far west by northwest from the old Walker home on the Walker's Crossing road, about a mile and a half from the city limits on the northwest, and the Bosque was literally over the whole face of the earth in that section, even obscuring the big trees in the bottom; it was three miles wide, and a raging, foaming, turbulent and turbulent tide.

Kneeling down in reverential attitude and offering a prayer for protection and for success, the two men then launched their frail boat against the maddening and raging currents. They were swept like straws at times, and more than once encountered great trees floating about as though they were switches, once or twice getting into places from which it looked as though they could not possibly escape. They kept up the battle, however, with unflinching courage, and finally crossed the first stretch of the waters, secured a man and a team after great effort, for the ground was literally soaked, and had the man haul the boat to a point where there was another arm of water separating the two tired and struggling men from the families they were out to rescue.

Once more they trusted their lives in the small boat on the final stretch of water, and after terrible experiences reached their goal, to find that Mr. Railey and Mr. Haney and their families had taken what they had with them into the tops of the trees, prepared for a struggle against what looked to them like certain destruction unless conditions improved, for the very heavens had been opened and rains had poured, sluiced and drenched everything unspittingly and with an apparent determination to flood the highest grounds within reach of the streams.

But the rescuers arrived, and it was stated yesterday by Mr. Haney that he did not even yet understand how the crossing could have been made of the first waste of water, as the second was the only one that saved them. The two Waco gentlemen were taken to places of safety, and none of them have ever forgotten the deed of Mr. Harrison and Mr. McKinley, the intention being now to see if they could not have recognition of the kind mentioned, the belief of all who recall the thrilling incident being that they certainly merit such recognition.
